

THE COLLEGE GAME FOR FOOTBALL -- SPORT COMMENT -- BOXING

'Georgia Tech Too Fast for Penn State' Sanford

Rutgers Coach Declares South-erners' Famous Shift Is Illegal.

By DANIEL. "In spite of its comparatively mediocre defence the Georgia Tech football team should defeat the Penn State eleven," declared Foster Sanford yesterday in a discussion of the styles and relative merits and strength of the rivals who are to meet at the Polo Grounds to-morrow. The Rutgers team, which is coached by the old Yale star, got a neat beating from Georgia Tech down at Atlanta last Saturday, 48 to 14, and to Sanford was afforded a splendid opportunity to dissect the method and strategy of the Yellow Jackets.

HARVARD CONFINES PRACTICE TO DRILL

Scrimmage Avoided to Keep Regulars in Shape for Game With Centre. Harvard's gridiron forces ought to be up on their toes against Centre College on Saturday. All this week there has been nothing that has resembled a hard scrimmage and the drilling both on attack and defence has been hard. This afternoon while the second team was beating the freshmen, by 6 to 0, outside the regulars were made smooth in substitutes, as they are now assigned, practised on the varsity field. The drill was mainly on offence, forward passes and the kicking game, which will be made smooth next week when Harvard will have only the Tigers to think about.

McCarthy Has Approved It.

"However, I do not think that there will be any objection against the use of the shift from Charley McCarthy, who is to referee the game on Saturday," McCarthy officiated in the Georgia Tech-Fitzpatrick game last year, and he put his stamp of approval on the shift. The use of the interpretation made last month may change his mind about that play. But I doubt it.

Georgia Tech Has a Wonderful Line and a Well Developed Attack.

However, these will not win for it unless it can keep the ball about six-tenths of the time. If Georgia Tech is able to keep the ball in play 45 per cent. of the time it will win by a big margin. Penn State has to beat the clock and keep right on moving.

Yale Varsity Makes Four Touchdowns Against Scrubs.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27.—With three regulars out of the lineup the Yale varsity held the scrubs scoreless this afternoon, while they made four touchdowns through a clever aerial attack and good running by Neldinger. Captain Aldrich, Matt Brown and George Beckwith, and their places were taken by Neldinger, Spelden and O'Hearn.

Fordham Practices Against 'Boston College' Eleven.

The Fordham football lads put in a long but rather easy afternoon on the gridiron yesterday. The first eleven had a practice two hours long. After that the regulars had a short scrimmage with Grandfield's "Boston College" team. Later in the evening the forty-five members of the squad attended the evening performance at the Strand. It was "Fordham Night" at this local theatre.

Syracuse Captain Is Injured in a Scrimmage.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Capt. Bert Glick of the Syracuse University football squad suffered a wrenching leg in a scrimmage this afternoon. The injury, it is said, may prevent him playing in the game with Washington and Jefferson College here Saturday.

Centre Eleven Drills on Boston Gridiron

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—Kentucky's Centre College eleven drilled to-night after a short signal practice on the Boston College gridiron. The team, which is to meet Harvard on Saturday, arrived this afternoon and Coach Charlie Meacham has been busy in putting his squad of twenty-five men through a light drill. No scrimmage was attempted, but the Harvard on Saturday, arrived this afternoon and Coach Charlie Meacham has been busy in putting his squad of twenty-five men through a light drill. RIGHT AND SNAP IN PRINCETON'S PLAY

Tigers Show Marked Improvement—Lourie and Garrity to Face Virginians.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 27.—The last scrimmage before Saturday's game with Virginia found Princeton's gridiron warriors in improved form to-day. While the varsity was able to obtain only one touchdown in the course of the proceedings, it displayed a right and snap which have been lacking for some time. Waddy MacPhee, who had taken the place at quarterback, won scoring honors when he snatched a long forward pass on a dead run and stumbled over the goal line.

Williams Ends Training for Game With Columbia.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. WILLIAMSTOWN, Oct. 27.—Williams completed his preparation for Columbia at to-day's practice, when Coach Wentland gave his charges a final scrimmage with the freshmen team, providing the opposition. The workout went off smoothly, with the varsity continuing to show lots of drive in its attack.

Columbia to Have Full Strength in Williams Game.

The return of Carl Mosenzanski, Walter Koppich and Moderski, the three Columbia regulars who have been on the slightly injured list for the last week, to the varsity lineup signalled yesterday's workout on South Field. With these men at and ready for action Columbia will be able to send its full strength against Williams to-morrow when the Purple invades South Field.

Hardy to Call Signals for Lehigh on Saturday.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 27.—Hardy, a freshman candidate and former Kiski athlete, will call signals for the Lehigh University eleven when the team lines up against West Virginia here on Saturday afternoon. A general shakeup is expected by the way Coach Glick lined up his varsity in the scrimmages this week.

'Tex' Hamer Declared Eligible for Penn Eleven.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—Just after Penn had gone through a two hours' intensive signal drill at the Whitehorse Valley Country Club an announcement was made to-night that Ernest A. (Tex) Hamer, fullback on last year's Red and Blue team, has been declared eligible and will start to-morrow against Pitt.

To Demonstrate Rules for Basketball Officials

In addition to a discussion of the rules for the season of 1921-22 the joint basketball committee, composed of representatives from the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the Y.M.C.A. and the A. U., will give a demonstration of basketball play over which there may be any doubt of interpretation for the benefit of those in attendance on the annual conference on the rules to be held at 7:30 to-morrow evening in Room 305, Schermerhorn Building, Columbia University, to which every one interested in basketball is invited.

Bluenose Comes Within Official Measurement

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 27.—The Lunenburg schooner Bluenose, winner of the international fisherman's trophy race, to-day was shown by official measurements to have come within the deed of gift of the championship cup. She measured 143 feet 1 inch over all, as compared to the maximum allowed of 145 feet. Her waterline is 119 feet 6 inches, against the maximum allowed of 112 feet, and her draught is 14 feet 4 1/2 inches, against the maximum allowed of 14 feet.

Baseball Trophy for Owen.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 27.—The Dana Wynant trophy, emblematic of foremost all-around ability in Harvard baseball, was won by George Owen, Jr., of Newton, first base in varsity line. The Harvard-Woodbury trophy was awarded to Arthur Cullen, catcher for best offensive work. Cullen is captain of the team. His position is shortstop.

THE LISTENING POST

By WALTER TRUMBULL Copyright, 1921, by The New York Herald.

NAMES. Have you ever noticed How names seem to fit? What queer combinations Doing parents hit? Memories of that epic Linger with us still... "Sister calls me Willie, But the fellow call me Bill."

CALLING THEM OVER. Writers have had much to say of names. Shakespeare spoke of names familiar as household words, and the Duke of Rutland of names that shall live for yet unnumbered years. Fitz-Greene Halliwell immortalized Marco Bozzaris when he spoke of him as "One of the few, the immortal names, that were not born to die."

THE JOHNS. The Johns have been even more prolific in baseball than the Bills. To start with, the infielders there were McGraw, Wagner, Ward, Evers, Hamel, Miller, Barry, Morrill, Anderson and Kelley, a pretty fair list. Some of the outfielders were Murray, Bates, Glenn, Titus, Magner, Manning and Radcliff. What better catchers could you desire than Kling, Meyers, O'Connor, McLean, Clapp, Kleinow and Henry? And Stivetta, Chesbro, Coombs, Powell, Clarkson, Pfeister, Rowan, Warhop and Lush would form a fine pitching staff.

THE GEORGES. The Georges, starting with the catchers, we may mention Gibson, Baker, Graham, Miller and Schiefel. Few baseball fans have forgotten George Waddell, and others of the pitching staff are Speer, Bell, Geyer, McQuillan, Wittke, Mullin and Weidman. The infielders are Stone, Van Halteren, Tebeau, Wood, Strick, Gore and Shaffer.

CHARLES AND JAMES. The Charlies were especially strong in battery work. Among the catchers were Bennett, Ganzel, Zimmer, Duols, Street, Brindy and Schmidt, and it would be hard to pick a finer collection of twirlers than Rabourne, Ferguson, Brown, Getzlin, Baldwin, Bender and Nichols. Heinie Wagner's first name was Charles, and other infielders were Herzog, Gould, Carr, French and O'Leary. Charles Jones and Charles Henphill were good outfielders.

James Archer was a catcher of considerable repute, and others were White, Maguire and Stevens. Galvin, Scott and Whitney were a fine trio of boxmen. O'Rourke, Delehanty, McPhee, Williams, Collins, McGary, Austin, Casey, Davis and Hillman were infielders of note, and there were few better outfielders than Fogarty, Rheckard, Slagle and Bannon.

The Franks are represented by Bowerman, Flint, Roth, Jacklitzsch, Donahue, Atkins, Corridon, Chance Smith, Isabel, Laporte, Friedland, Schulte, Luderus and Cree. The Jones had Sweden, Crisp, McClinty, Doyle, Harris, Lake, Willis, Start, Quinn, Quest, Gerhardt, Battin, Tucker, Kelley, Hoerning and Birmingham. Among the Edwards may be mentioned Phelps, Karger, Reubach, Walsh, Willett, Mills, Williamson, Lenox, Foster, Cuthbert, Hamon and Delahanty.

The Mikes and the Freds were fewer in numbers, but good. There was Mike Kelly, Donlin, Mitchell, Snodgrass and Konnick. The Freds claim Tenney, Clarke, Dunlap, Merkle and Powers.

In the big leagues to-day the Georges probably are the most prominent. They can claim Ruth, Sisler, Burns, O'Neill, Kelly, Daus, Uble, Boehler, Paskert, Cutchaw and several others. The Williams have Kliffier, Southworth, Cook, Hinemann and Kopf; the Johns, Rawlings, McInnis, Miljus and Lavan; the James, Ring, Bagby, Shaw, Zinn and Vaughn; the Franks, Frisch and Snyder; the Edwards, Collins, Rousch and Konetchy; the Jones, Sewell, Judge, Wood and Boehling, and the Charlies, Hollocher, Adams and Glazner.

So far as we know or can remember, and so far as we believe, there has never been and will never be but one Tris, Tyrus and Christy.

PITCHER BARNES IN NEED OF WEIGHT

All Right Next Year if He Recovers Twenty Pounds, Says Bancroft.

By WILLIAM B. HANNA. Jesse Barnes of the Giants' pitching staff had a queer season. He was off form most of the pennant year, erratic and undependable. He didn't seem able to last through a game. When it came to the world series, however, he not only lasted through the two in which he took part as a relief pitcher, but did the finest sort of pitching. So much so that the Giants won the series.

Major Philip Hayes of the Army, who in the football season knows every eye between the Hotel Astor and the officers mess at West Point, told yesterday of numerous letters he has had from football enthusiasts setting forth how much they enjoyed the Yale-Army game. One sharp who went to study the game from an expert point of view said its thrills made him forget all about technique. A real compliment that. What's technique compared to providing rich entertainment for 70,000 persons?

A striking fact in connection with that battle is that French of the Army, who got high jinks the short time he was in and who menaced Yale with his forward passes, never threw one before in a game.

Incidentally the West Pointer who caught Aldrich and stopped his seventy yard run was D. Storck, the end, not French. Major Hayes solved that mystery yesterday.

The writer was much interested yesterday in the comments of Colleague Trumbull on second basemen. We saw Fred Dunlap play, but not Ross Barnes, who some still older timers say was the king of all the keystone cracks. Dunlap, to the writer's way of thinking, was not the equal of Eddie Collins. Neither was anybody else, but Larry Lajoie was a plucky good enough second basemen for anybody in any era. We've seen as good as Ed McPhee or John Evers, Claude Hitey, Bob Louse, Billy Gilbert and Fred Pfeiffer belong in the great second basemen class, and from what we've heard, Danny Richardson.

Kid Sullivan, a Brooklyn featherweight, has been signed to meet Bobby Jay in his punches he would be the most dangerous man in the bantam division. Even as he stands he will be apt to lower the excessive self-esteem Herman Starkey and Buff entertain for themselves.

SAILOR FRIEDMAN MAY EXTEND RICE

British Champion Will Get Acid Test Tonight in Garden Bout.

By CHARLES F. MATHISON. According to Charles J. Harvey of England and America, he has uncovered a pugilistic novelty in Ernie Rice, lightweight champion of Great Britain. Harvey asserts that Rice is a fighter of ability. In view of the fact that no foreign fighter who has arrived here in a long time has exhibited more than mediocre ability, Harvey may be said to be the Columbus of the roped square. As a discoverer he has outstripped all the ring sharps of the world. He declares that Rice is a great boxer, a hard hitter and a fit opponent for Benny Leonard.

Under the circumstances if Rice disposes of Sailor Friedman in workmanlike manner to-night at the Garden it is not unlikely that Richard will pin a medal on Harvey.

On the other hand, if Friedman should vanquish the British champion in a manner that does not reflect credit on Rice, Harvey will need to be a stiff puncher to make any impression on Friedman, and he will need to be strong to keep pace with the Chicagoan. The spectators will have a good line on Rice's ability at the close of the Briton's bout with Friedman.

So far as Friedman is concerned he is known to be a rugged chap who can take all kinds of thumps without blinking and can inflict punishment.

There will be four ten round bouts at Madison Square Garden next Tuesday night. These should attract excellent sport. The contestants will be Midgott Smith and Barry Hill, Morris Lux and Marty Summers, Eddie Anderson and George Lee and Mickey Brown and Joe Leopold. This entertainment will appeal to the gallery gods, who will be able to occupy their perch for half a dollar. The highest price will be $5.

Incidentally it has been unofficially stated that the Boxing Commission has ruled that no club shall hold two boxing entertainments in one week. It was Richard's intention to stage two sets of bouts each week in the Garden.

A number of reformers and clergymen gathered at the rooms of the Hudson county Grand Jury yesterday in Jersey City, where an investigation of the Dempsey-Carpenter bout was started. It seems that the reformers desire to ascertain what took place in Boyle's Thirty Acres last July 4. The reformers are informed that Dempsey won by a knockout in the fourth round and that tens of thousands saw the contest and liked it. As Carpenter received $250,000 he did not complain of the beating he received.

If Phil O'Dowd had a bit more steam in his punches he would be the most dangerous man in the bantam division. Even as he stands he will be apt to lower the excessive self-esteem Herman Starkey and Buff entertain for themselves.
